

KINETIC TASK

Agile, manageable workflow automation

Kinetic Task allows your organization to easily add workflow automation to nearly any process from request management to network alerts to marketing automation.

- Fosters enterprise-wide agility, enabling the business to take ownership of processes
- Reduces costs by eliminating manual processes
- Leverages existing application investments, avoiding rip-and-replace projects

- Provides enterprise-grade process management capabilities at every level of the application stack
- Combines larger BPM-style governance with the flexibility of a point-to-point scripting engine

- Open architecture means integrations are both adaptable and cost-effective
- Freely available adapters support a variety of systems from ITSM suites to JIRA to Facebook
- A strong community helps continually build and share adapters

